Dressed For Success

Kimberly-Clark Professional consultants conduct assessments of your cleanroom environment and select the right garment to reduce the risk of contamination.

About

Being Dressed For Success™ means choosing a garment that can control contamination so you can do your best work. Contamination is bad for business, especially in an industry where purity is paramount. Before you get dressed, turn to the experts in sterile garments — Kimtech™ sterile single-use apparel — for seamless protection when and where it counts.

Key Benefits

- Ensure the appropriate garment is selected for contamination control
- Provide seamless protection and comfort for ISO 5 or higher cleanrooms
- Determine eligibility for recycling used PPE through The RightCycle™ program
